

Moonlight

Lyrics & Music by: Brendon Bjorness-Murano

Chorus

Moonlight will light our way
Sunshine wakes up the day
Destin-ati-on unimportant anyway
Escape your thoughts today

Verse 1

The wind blows away the clouds in the sky
Just like the emotion between you and I
The Only Difference is we rain when we cry
But the Earth keeps a spinning and one day we will die

Bridge

The stars think out loud by their burning, bright phosphorensic haze
You'll keep a struggling unless you escape your maze
The doors to your left, feel free to leave at any time
You never owned my thoughts, they are all mine

Chorus

Moonlight will light our way
Sunshine wakes up the day
Destin-ati-on unimportant anyway
Escape your thoughts today

Verse 2

My brain holds me back, but there ain't no use thinking 'bout that
The proofs in the pudding, the puddings on my face
My heart's where it should be, in it's own place
My insides are out, my outsides will spin, maybe one day I'll let you in (3X)

Bridge

The stars think out loud by their burning, bright phosphorensic haze
You'll keep a struggling unless you escape your maze
The doors to your left, feel free to leave at any time
You never owned my thoughts, they are all mine

Breakdown

Maybe one day I'll let you in? Maybe this song will make you spin?
Maybe one day you will cry? Maybe there's a way for you and I?
Maybe one day I'll let you in? Maybe this song will make you spin?
Maybe one day you wont lie? Maybe one day we will never Die?

End Chorus

Moonlight will light our way
Sunshine wakes up the day
Destin-ati-on unimportant anyway
Escape your thoughts today